Dear Jim:

To our great regret, Doug Johnston is leaving us in February to become a partner in an international management consulting firm. He has been, as you know, the shaper as well as the manager of our National and International Security executive program, and we now face the hard, and urgent, task of filling his ample shoes.

We need someone who will spend about half of his or her time maintaining the program at the very high standard which Doug has set and fostering its further development. The other half of the person's time should go to otherwise developing national security studies at the school.

We would appreciate any nominations, and the sooner the better. You can reach me at the Woodrow Wilson International Center, 1000 Jefferson Drive, SW, Washington, DC, 20560 (the castle in the mall): 202/357-2951.

Thanks,

Ernest May
